Stay In It! Become A Champion At What You Do!

It doesn't matter if you are sweeping floors, head of IT, regional manager, salesperson, customer service representative or the CEO of the company; you should be driven to be the best at what you do. This is what the Stay In It program is all about: never accepting average, always driven to achieve excellence and become the best at what you do. This re-energizing program is full of practical insights and tools that will help your team raise their performance standards.

Change Happens, Winners Adjust! How to Stay Calm, Focused and Driven During Changing Times

With mergers, acquisitions, re-engineering, re-strategizing, re-focusing, and difficult economies the era of predictability is over. Change Happens, Winners Adjust starts with a self audit of your change-adeptness and three things you can do to immediately become more adept at mastering the change process. Darin shows you how to gain control of yourself during times of change and control change instead of change controlling you.

Own Your Own Health How to take Charge of your Health to Ignite More Energy

When moving an organization, team, or your performance from "good" to "great," often a paramount ingredient is overlooked in this challenging process. What is this missing ingredient on the road to greatness? It is the physical health and energy levels of the individuals that make up a team and company. Challenging work requires healthy people. Darin shows you how the power of getting clear on what type of health you want for yourself and taking ownership of your health will give you better results in everything you do.

The Art of Diversity Service! Delivering Excellent Service to Customers of Diverse Cultures, Personalities and Backgrounds

In today's diverse society and rapidly moving social media, we must make sure that our people on the frontline are not driving customers away due to their personal biases and behavior toward certain groups of people. Darin gives your people the skills, tools and motivation to identify, defeat and/or control the biases that can create poor customer service. Darin quickly connects with the audience and drives home powerful insight and key tools that leave the audience ready to deliver excellent service to every customer they serve.
